

Supplier Portal FAQ's:

How does a supplier representative register for access?

- For existing suppliers, Sherwin-Williams will identify and send an invitation to the supplier primary contact.
- Once a supplier primary contact is identified and registered, they will be able to register other users as needed.

Who should register as the supplier primary contact?

- It is up to the supplier to identify the primary contact who should access the portal.

How many users should be signed up?

- Suppliers will need to determine how many users are appropriate based on size and scope of their organization and the amount of business interaction with Sherwin-Williams.
- We suggest the supplier match the person(s) currently responsible for : Sales, AP, Customer Service, Regulatory, Legal)
- The primary contact is able to register other users including a backup primary contact.

Is there a cost to access the Portal?

- There is no fee to use the application and it only requires an upto date compatible web browser.

Is training available for suppliers?

- Suppliers are able to access training materials available online under <http://Suppliers.sherwin-williams.com> website.
- Use Contact Us page for more information